Naval Limitations Will Occupy Arms Parley This Week

Problem Approaches Point of Transfer Back to "Big Five" Committe With Report of Navy Experts on Facts Involved

BORAH ASSAILS ASSOCIATION

Asserts President's Plan Is "The Old League of Nations Under Another Name;" Japanese Plenipotentiary Endorses the Proposal

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 27—With the question of land armaments definitely thrust into the background by the developments of the last week, the conference on limitation of armaments will enter its third week tomorrow with another stride toward agreement on naval limitations foreshadowed.

The naval question, at least as far as its most vital element, the 5-5-3 ratio of fleet strength between Great Britain, the United States and Japan, is concerned, is approaching the point of transfer back to the "Big Five" committee with the report of the naval experts on the facts involved. There is some expectation that a plenary session of the conference itself will be called during the week to reach first decisions on the naval limitation plan.

Whether the experts of the three major naval powers will submit individual reports is not known. There is nothing to indicate whether they are agreed as to the facts and figures they have been studying.

Both the British and American experts were reported as having concluded their examinations of the mass of ship data involved in Secretary Hughes' proposal. The Japanese naval group was still toiling on Saturday, it was said. Spokesmen for any group did not go beyond that estimate of the situation.

Summary of Naval Developments.

A summary of last week's developments as to the naval proposals indicates the following status:

American officers have seen no reason in arguments advanced by Japan to warrant any change in the keystone of the agreement Mr. Hughes proposed, the 5-5-3 naval strength ratio.

British naval officers have accepted that ratio, although it means ultimate equalization of the American and British fleets in power.

Japanese officers have opposed the American ratio, immediate or future, urging a 10-10-7 relative status instead.

American naval opinion strongly opposes retention by Japan of the battleship Mutsu unless both other powers similarly and in due proportion enlarge their fleets to be retained during the ten-year holiday in building. There are indications that some members of the American delegation which will decide the American attitude see strength in the arguments of Japan that the Mutsu might have been included as a completed ship in the retained fleets. There was nothing to indicate, however, that a compromise was being considered in the American group on this point.

British opinion as to the Mutsu controversy has been withheld. It has been indicated, however, the Great Britain was not desirous of undertaking further naval construction at this time, which seems to forecast agreement with the American view that the Mutsu should not be retained.

Japanese officials presented extensive tables of tonnage to support their claim that they are entitled to retain the Mutsu without any similar retention by the other powers.

So far as the Mutsu is concerned, the Japanese have contended that she was a completed ship on November 11.

Job for the "Big Five."

The next step, when the three groups of experts have concluded their work, will be their report to the armament committee. It seems unlikely that even if the British and American experts are found to be in accord as to the general accuracy of the original American figure, the Japanese naval officers will submit differing conclusions. It will then become the task of the "Big Five" committee to seek an agreement on a report to be made at a plenary session of the arms conference itself. How long that would take it was difficult to forecast.

British opposition to the submarine element of Mr. Hughes limitation plan was certain to be one of the chief points to be discussed by the committee and the conference.

Japanese contentions for a higher proportionate strength in airplane carriers than Mr. Hughes proposed also may lead toward a five-power debate. Both France and Italy, without question, will prove to be more deeply interested in this new naval element than in capital ship ratios of the three major navies.

Judging by procedure of the Far Eastern conference, it appears likely that sub-committees of the arms conference will be named to deal with such questions as submarines, airplane carriers, French-Italian fleet ratios and other matters subsidiary to the main point of the whole naval program, the Japanese fleet ratio.

SENATOR BORAH'S VIEWS ON "ASSOCIATION OF NATIONS"

Washington, Nov. 27.—The continuing "association of nations," which, according to reports, President Harding has foreseen as a possible outcome of the armament conference, would be "the old league of nations under another name," Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, declared in a statement tonight.

Senator Borah's statement follows:

"The proposed association of nations has not yet been reduced to form nor yet defined. But from what one can gather here and there, it is the old league of nations under a new name. It will be engaged in precisely the same kind of work and doing the same kind of things that were proposed by the league. It is not what you call it but what it is, that counts.

Association Same as League.

"Fundamentally, and in the practical workings of the association of nations, it will not differ from the league of nations. I see no reason, therefore, why the 43 nations which have signed the league should be asked to abandon it and transfer their names to an association of nations. If we want to go into this kind of proposition, there is no reason why we should not experiment with the one they have.

"It is claimed by the advocates of the league that the present league has been of much service to Europe. If so, there is no reason for asking Europe to scrap the old league and try a new one. If we are going into Europe we ought to go in. If we are not, we ought not to be handing her a new league every 90 days. She will likely conclude that after the next Presidential election she could have a new league. I see no difference whatever in joining the present lague and joining the other league by a new name.

"The United States operates under a written constitution. Great Britain has no written constitution. One of the arguments being put forward now in favor of the association of nations is that Mr. Wilson made a mistake in giving his plan a written constitution; and we should adopt the British idea and undertake to conduct the league or an association of nations without any written constitution or written covenant whatever. In other words, that the new association will consist of representatives of different governments coming together with no limitation upon their jurisdiction or power or authority other than their own discretion. A conclave of diplomats sitting behind closed doors with nothing to direct or limit their powers save their own will and discretion would be a rather interesting proposition. I am inclined to think that if the American people choose a league they will choose one which has its powers defined, or at least an attempt to define them rather than trust their destiny to the unbridled discretion of a few men.

"Lloyd George suggested some time ago, according to the press dispatches, that the Anglo-Japanese alliance be extended to an Anglo-American-Japanese alliance and that this alliance take upon itself the duty of administering China. Now, it is said that such an alliance would be wholly objectionable to the American people, yet under an association of nations the same thing could be effectuated and accomplished. It is also being urged that the international debt could be more successfully manipulated through the association. All of which things simply disclose that the association of nations is another name for the league with some additional and more extensive powers annexed

"It does not appear as yet whether we are to have two leagues or one league and one association, or whether it is to be that the league organized by Mr. Wilson will be merged into the association organized by President Harding. It will be very difficult to get rid of the present league unless the Versailles treaty is radically modified, but I presume we will know more when the matter is reduced to such concrete form as will enable us to grasp it or at least to try to do so."

A Word About Senator Borah.

Senator Borah was one of the "irreconcilables" in the senate who opposed the League of Nations as comprised in the treaty of Versailles. He maintained throughout the fight a position of unalterable opposition to the league, with or without reservations, and for this reason was found in the ranks of those voting against the various Lodge reservations. Senator Borah voted for the Knox resolution, the purpose of which was to repeal the joint war resolutions and enact a congressional declaration of peace.

The "association of nations" referred to in Mr. Borah's statement was described in official circles as a "continuing conference," at which the nations might meet periodically to discuss international subjects. Such a conference was said to be regarded by Mr. Harding as a possible result of the armament conference. The President was said to have already discussed his plan with members of several delegations and to have received assurances that they regarded such a development as a possibility. As a first step toward realization of the idea, it was said, nations not represented at the present conference might be invited to endorse the conclusions reached here.

Japanese Official Endorses Plan.

Washington, Nov. 27. — Vice Foreign Minister Masanao Hanihara, one of the four Japanese plenipotentiaries, tonight endorsed the proposal for later international conferences to examine world problems.

"Japan has come to this conference," said Mr. Hanihara, "in a spirit of candor, prepared to discuss all matters so that causes of future misunderstandings may be reduced to a minimum. In this spirit much can be accomplished. It may be impossible to conclude all things at this session. New problems may arise. A frank discussion will clear the air and insure a permanent good understanding."

French Official's Attitude.

Washington, Nov. 27. — President Harding's suggestion for a continuation of international conferences to deal with world problems as a result of developments at the Washington conference was endorsed today by M Viviani, head of the French delegation.

"First, the initiative of President Harding is of very considerable importance," he said. "It is high thought and what is equally beautiful, a practical thought. This conference has already a great ideal for its aim. If it is the begining of other conferences, this is a historic moment. I shall not be for France to stay away.

"Second, humanity for its happiness must solve problems of a universal character. Consequently, universality of means must be used. If any great nation should be missing in the cohesion of ideas and in the examination of solutions, that would make them most difficult. The initiative of President Harding will allow the whole world to take part.

"Third, we have all to gain by these associations in which we continue to learn the law of equality among nations and we find what we are missing in offering to others that which we possess. No nation has the exclusive gift of intellectual and moral power.

"Fourth, what will people think in Europe of the President's new idea? Are they not going to think that it is in conflict with the League of Nations? I answer, no. America has decided to ignore the League of Nations. That was her right. She has no account to render to any one. The League of Nations exists. What is to be deplored is that it should exist alone. America through these conferences will come into contact with the rest of the world. Let the world be united in one way or in another way. There is no special protocol for that.

"Fifth, I do not know if these conferences and the League of Nations can associate their ends. It does not matter. It is only for mathematicians that parallel lines do not meet. Both thoughts will meet in different spheres. I am sure that for all great problems we shall be together. Already America has given her adhesion to the international court of justice, whose verdicts without her would have been weakened. It will be proved that discussion may be apart when aims are in common."

WILL SHANTUNG QUESTION COME UP AT CONFERENCE?

Washington, Nov. 27. — Will the celebrated Shantung question, which has so stirred public opinion in both the Occident and Orient, find its way into the Washington conference?

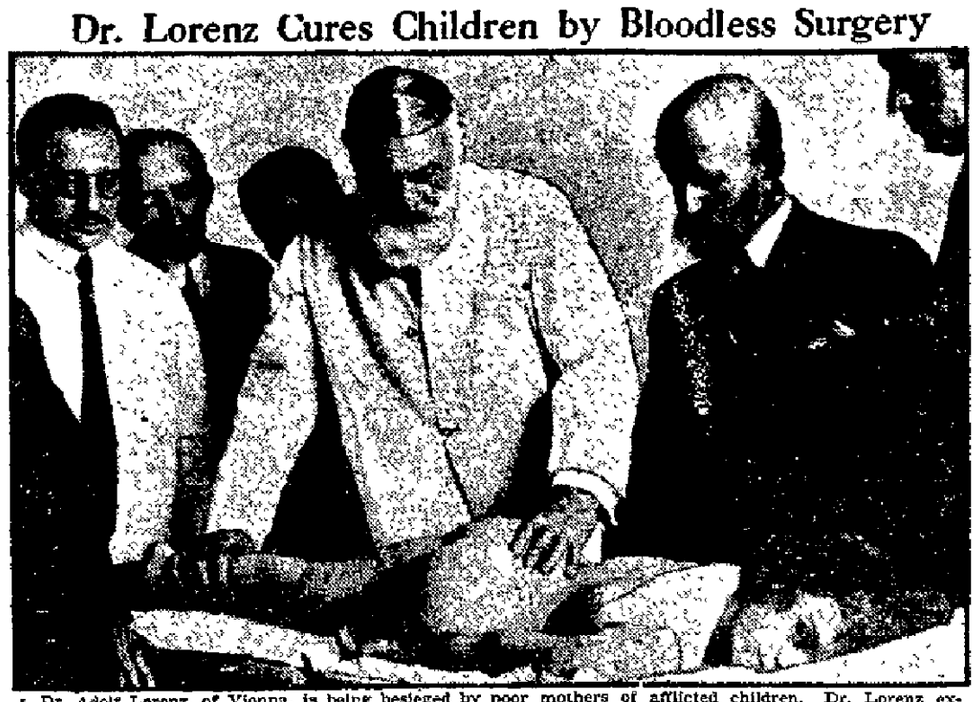

This question occupies a prominent place in the thought and talk of the delegates, though open references to it are most guarded. In some quarters a desire is shown to avoid it if possible on the ground that the subject is likely to revive old controversies and interrupt the hitherto harmonious trend of the conference.

The Japanese standpoint is that it is quite unnecessary to discuss the Shantung matter because Japan stands ready to open direct negotiations with China for the restoration of the leased territory of Kiau-Chau in Shantung, and the withdrawal of troops along the railroad on conditions which Japan considers reasonable.

The Japanese opinion on this point, as expressed here, is that public opinion in China is clamoring for some settlement at the conference of the Shantung controversy.

Members of the Chinese delegation say that the Chinese people do not want either the Shantung question or that of the 1915 treaty settled in either Peking or Tokio.

SEEK MAN FOR KILLING CHILD IN FIT OF ANGER

Corning, Nov. 27. — As the result of the death this morning of William Davis, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis of Hornby, a sheriff's posse is scouring the woods near there tonight for Richard Davis, wanted on a charge of having killed the baby. The child's death is alleged to have resulted from kicks administered by the father during a fit of anger last night.

Mrs. Davis made an affidavit here tonight in which she alleges her husband threatened to kill the boy as he kicked him in the head and elsewhere after the child had fallen.

Shortly after the child's death, Davis took his rifle and 15 cartridges and disappeared from home. A score of officers are searching the vicinity for him to-night.

ROBERT M. MOORE, NOTED LAWYER, DEAD

Driver of Auto That Struck Him Held on Homicide Charge; Victim Known in Oneonta

New York, Nov. 27. — Robert M Moore, noted criminal lawyer, died early today as a result of injuries received last night when struck by an automobile near his home on West 96th street. Joseph Dempsey, driver of the machine, was arrested on a charge of homicide.

Mr. Moore was 55 years old and for more than 20 years had been prominently identified with the practice of criminal law in this city. He appeared as counsel for Albert J. Patrick, lawyer, charged with the murder of William Marsh Rice, aged and wealthy widower, in the latter's apartments in September, 1900. The prosecution contended that Patrick engaged Charles Jones, Rice's valet, to chloroform Rice. Convicted of murder in 1902, Patrick, through Mr. Moore, fought the case for four years until his sentence was commuted by Governor Higgins in 1906. Patrick was pardoned in 1912.

Mr. Moore is well remembered in Oneonta, where nearly a score of years ago he appeared for the defense in the trial of a criminal action which attracted much attention at that time.

FOUR KILLED WHEN FAST TRAIN HITS CLOSED CAR

Elmira, Nov. 27. — Four persons were instantly killed today at Curtis crossing, a hamlet near Corning, when Lackawanna Train 6, one of the railroad's crack limited trains, struck a closed automobile. The dead are: DeWitt Lowe of Curtis, N. Y., Mrs. John Downing and her two daughters, aged 12 and 3 years.

The running schedule of the "Lackawanna Limited" express from Bath to Corning is 18 minutes for the 21 miles, and the highest speed is attained on a long down grade to the Curtis crossing. It was here that the four persons met their death. Lowe was driving a small car of the sedan type in a downpour of rain.

Geneva, Nov. 27. — Mrs. E. B. Morschcimer, 60, of this city, was killed instantly, and three other persons were seriously injured, early tonight, when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Lehigh Valley mail train at the Mendon crossing.

UPSET IN FRENCH TENNIS CIRCLES

Vice President of Organization Resigns Following Row Over Mlle. Lenglen

(By The Associated Press)

Paris, Nov. 27.—Captain Albert R. de Joannis, who accompanied Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the French tennis star, to the United States last summer, has tendered his resignation as vice president of the French Tennis federation and also as a member of the organization.

M. de Joannis resigned in protest against the federation's "order of the day" published in the morning papers today, blaming the directors of the United States Lawn Tennis federation for unjustified commentaries upon the sporting spirit of Mlle. Lenglen."

The resignation of M. de Joannis is the climax of a controversy that has been going on inside the tennis federation since the return to France from the United States of Mlle. Lenglen and her party. M. de Joannis was accused of having urged the French player "to engage in tennis matches while physically unfit to do so."

M. de Joannis told The Associated Press today that thus far he had refrained from commenting on the criticism hurled against him owing to his delicate position and in view of the fact that a woman's name was at stake, but that the attacks became so bitter when the United States Lawn Tennis association was brought into the argument that he had to abandon his reserve.

Mlle. Lenglen," said M. de Joannis today, "was perfectly fit when she met Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory at Forest Hills. Mlle. Lenglen was defeated be a player who, on that date, showed a better brand of tennis.

"She knows how to win, but she does not know how to lose gracefully. She placed the personality of Suzanne before the good name of the sporting world of her country and could not face defeat."

The French Lawn Tennis federation has absolved Mlle. Lenglen from all but the mildest censure for her abandonment of the championship match. Mlle. Lenglen submitted all the medical reports available on the state of her health before, during and since the match, and the federation, after careful examination, decided that her abandonment of th match seemed justified. A resolution was passed which acquitted the French girl from any suggestion of having voluntarily given up for other reasons than the condition of her health, but it was worded in such a way as to imply that her ill health was perhaps slightly aggravated by her own imprudence.

TWO MEN HELD FOR PAYROLL ROBBERY

Most of $28,444 Stolen Is Recovered; Hidden Auto Leads to Arrests

Boston, Nov. 27.—Police inspectors tonight arrested James Luna of Oliphant, Pa., and John Dubok of Everett, Mass., charged with participating in the robbery of a payroll of $28,444 at the A. G. Walton & Company shoe factory in Chelsea yesterday morning. Most of the money was recovered.

Luna, with a bullet wound in one arm, was found on a bed in a South Boston lodging house. Later the inspector discovered in a barn in Everett the automobile in which the four bandits who snatched the money from messengers of the First National bank of Boston made their getaway. The car was riddled with bullets. Dubok was arrested at his home, where the police said they found two automatic pistols. They recovered there one bag of money which a hasty examination showed to contain about $20,000. The seals on some of the packages of bills had not been broken.

The capture of Dubok resulted from information given the Everett police by Mrs. Edward D. Ellison, that an automobile had been hidden in the barn. The police found the car and then went to Dubok's home and arrested him.

Three Persons Die In Panic Following Movie Theatre Fire

Nearly 100 Persons So Badly Injured That They Received Hospital Treatment; Some of Patients Not Expected to Recover

$60,000 PROPERTY LOSS

Early Reports of Heavy Loss of Life in New Haven Tragedy Prove Unfounded; Theatre Jammed When Cry of Fire Precipitates Trouble

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 27.—The Rialto theatre, a moving picture house, was burned tonight, and at least three persons lost their lives and more than four score were so badly injured that they received hospital treatment. Some of the patients may die, it was said. Fire Marshal Perkins late tonight was of the opinion that other bodies might be found in the ruins by daylight, although a search with lanterns by firemen and police revealed only two bodies. The other bodies were at local hospitals

The dead, according to Medical Examiner M. M. Scarbough, were: Timothy J. Hanlon, 58.

An elderly woman, yet unidentified, and a young man, also unidentified. Both bodies were found on the fire escapes.

First Reports Exaggerated.

For two hours while the flames rose higher than the Hotel Taft, just across College street, illuminating the entire city, it was feared the death list would be heavy. Ambulances carried scores of persons to the hospitals and spectators told of a stampede at the cry of "Fire!" and of bodies lying in heaps on the main floor. But when the fire fighters made their way inside the structure, it was learned that these fears were unfounded.

A number of Yale students were among those on the injured list.

Miss Mabel Moran of 15 Bank street, Derby, and Allen Keith, a Yale student of Southport, Conn., are in a serious condition at the New Haven hospital.

The fire spread from the Rialto to a large adjoining building and threatened for a time to break through the rear of the Hyperion theatre. The property loss was probably $60,000. The Rialto was remodeled from College Street hall, which had previously been the Plymouth Congregational church. Yale university used the hall for years for lecture courses.

Campus Officer William Wiser said that he thought many Yale students went to the Rialto tonight and he feared some of them were caught in the stampede. Throughout the fire, students pressed close to the police lines and tried to get through to search for friends as soon as the blaze was under control.

Mostly New Haven Residents.

Search of the ruins of the theatre, made at 10:15 by firemen and police, revealed only two bodies. There were two more dead at the hospitals. The number of injured receiving hospital treatment was about 60. Included among them are several Yale students. Most of the injured live in this city.

The cause of the fire was attributed, according to an early report, to the burning of incense on the stage in connection with the exhibition of a motion picture.

A man who said he had been in the theatre when the fire started, asserted that there was a stampede and that in getting out he saw many people on the floor.

As indicative of the loss of life in the theatre, a woman who got out in the first rush said that there was a stampede for the doors after a man ran down the aisle and in answer to inquiries as to "what is the matter?" answered, "Fire." A man said that he saw men jump from the balcony upon persons who were in seats below.

Guests at The Taft reported that the theatre seemed a mass of flames almost before the fire alarm was given.

At 8:30 the building was a roaring furnace of fire which had spread to an adjoining commercial building.

The first description of what happened within the theatre was given by Prof. Atlas, who said that the fire which started behind the stage, spread so rapidly that he believed scores of persons died in their seats. He said the aisles were jammed and spectators jumped from the balcony to the main floor. He said the exits were jammed instantly.

LOUISE GLAUM TO APPEAR IN TRIAL

Six Other Movie Folk Also Subpoenaed — No Intimation of Their Expected Testimony

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Subpoenas were issued tonight at the request of the district attorney's office here for Louise Glaum, motion picture actress, and six other persons, all believed to be connected with the motion picture industry, to appear in the manslaughter trial of Roscoe C Arbuckle.

Officials would give no limitation of the reason for the subpoenas nor of the testimony that expected any of those called to give. All the other six are residents of Los Angeles or Hollywood, Calif.

Gavin McNab, chief defense counsel, announced when adjournment was taken yesterday that the defense would close Monday.

Harry E. Barker, a rancher of the Stockton district and a friend of Miss Rappe, took the stand at the opening of court for the completion of his cross-examination.

According to Barker, Miss Rappe had been subject to attacks of a nature unknown to him while she was visiting in Chicago and South Haven, Mich., ten years ago and later. Miss Rappe died of an injury said by the Prosecution to have been caused by Arbuck. The defense contends that the injury was a spontaneous climax of a long-standing affection of an organ.

Mrs. Florence Bates of Santa Ana, Cal. testified to having met Miss Rappe in a Chicago department store in October, 1912, while Miss Rappe was engaged as a cloak, and the witness as a clerk. On three occasions Miss Rappe tore her clothes, doubled up and screamed, and was taken to the store hospital, Mrs. Bates testified.

During one of the attacks Miss Rappe tore off and utterly ruined a gown she had been displaying in a style show, Mrs. Bates said.

Philo McCullough, an actor of Hollywood, said he entertained Miss Rappe at his home about seven months ago and "she took a few drinks of gin, became very noisy and tore off her stockings and waist." He was friendly with Arbuckle and visited the Arbuckle home many times, he said. Liquor was served on one of these occasions, he testified.

GIRL ILLEGALLY IN REFORMATORY FREE

Was Committed Without Hearing or Trial Four Months Ago, Supreme Court Justice Charges

Bedford, Nov. 27.—Alleged to have been committed to the State Reformatory for Women here four and one-half months ago without a hearing or trial, Miss Margaret Ballard, 20, was released today on an order issued by Supreme Court Justice Morschauser. Miss Ballard was sent to the reformatory at the request of her foster-father, Madison Ballard, on an order signed by William Chidester, an aged justice of the peace of Saugerties.

Justice Morschauser also has interested himself in the case of Margaret's chum, Etta Beattie, who was sent to Bedford about the same time on charges preferred by her parents. Both girls were employed in a motion picture theatre in Saugerties and their refusal to quit their positions there is reported to have prompted their parents' action.

"The commitment was entirely irregular and illegal," Justice Morschauser said tonight. "The papers were signed at Judge Chidester's home while the girls were in the police station. Such things cannot be allowed to go on in this country."

NOTED ENGINEER DEAD.

Buffalo, Nov. 27.—John C. Quintus, chief civilian engineer of the federal Lakes division engineering department, died today at his home here. He had been in the government service for 42 years and performed many notable engineering feats, most important of which was the development of the idea of using coffer dams for raising sunken vessels. He was born in Sheboygan, Wis., in 1856 and was a graduate of the University of Michigan.

STORM ALONG COAST.

New York, Nov. 27.—Warning of a fast approaching storm along the northeast coast from Delaware breakwater to Eastport, Me., was issued at 10 o'clock tonight by the weather bureau. Increasing easterly winds the warning said, would be increased to gales tonight and would continue tomorrow morning with rain.

ANOTHER ACTIVE WEEK ON 'CHANGE

Continuance of Extraordinary Demand for Bonds Proves the Salient Feature

New York, Nov. 27.—Continuance of the recent extraordinary demand for bonds was the salient feature of another active week on the stock exchange. High-class issues led the further advance, most of the Liberty bonds exceeding previous maximums of the year.

The strength of railroad stocks was another hopeful development, transcontinentals and coalers receiving substantial support on improved earnings.

Erratic movements of industrial and many unclassified stocks seemed to denote little more than the day today operations of professional traders. Steels and equipments were sustained by better inquiry.

Wall street was plainly disappointed at the rejection of President Harding's surtax suggestions by the house of representatives. This incident was without pronounced effect as a market factor, however, bear raids being of short duration.

Latest phases of the armament conference occasioned restraint, notably in the foreign exchange market. Interior banks contributed measurably to the plethora of funds in the local market and slight easement of rates for short time loans was noted. This did not extend to call money, for which a five per cent rate prevailed.

WEST END AND THE PLAINS

Worth-While Thanksgiving Service at Elm Park Church Well Attended—Those Who Entertained Thanksgiving Day.

The special Thanksgiving service held at the Elm Park Methodist church Thursday evening was well attended and proved both profitable and enjoyable. A program of Thanksgiving recitations, readings and songs was given under the direction of the Loyal Workers class, and the pastor, Rev J C Johnson, delivered a Thanksgiving sermon, making reference to the many blessings that had been showered on our people and praying for continued divine guidance.

Receives Sad News.

Mrs. Emma Allen 378½ Chestnut street left yesterday morning for North Mehoopany, Pa., after receiving a telegram conveying the sad tidings of the serious illness of her granddaughter, Marion Allen, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen. The girl is suffering with valvular heart trouble and her condition is causing much anxiety. She has frequently visited at West End, and her many friends here will hope for her speedy recovery.

Other Word of the Sick.

George Howard, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howard, who for some time past has been seriously ill at the family home on Kearney street, is reported to be on the gain

Mrs Emogene Edmunds of 145 River street, who has been seriously ill for several months, is slowly improving.

Miss Alethea Deane was able to sit up and enjoy her Thanksgiving dinner She has been a sufferer from peritonitis.

Mrs. Frank Robinson of 14 Harrison avenue has been called to Ohio by the serious illness of her sister

Entertain on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shutters entertained about 20 relatives at their home, 337 Chestnut street, Thanksgiving Day. The guests enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner prepared by Mr and Mrs. Shutters, each of whom is over 80 year of age. During the afternoon, music and a social time were enjoyed, and it was a happy day indeed.

Among other "West-Enders" who entertained at Thanksgiving dinner were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Deane, Mr and Mrs. Lewis Thayer and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lull.

Other Holiday Notes.

Harlow Bender, a student at Amherst, is spending the Thanksgiving vacation at his home, 112 Chestnut street. Mrs. Frank Bender entertained 16 friends at a Thanksgiving dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Keith and children, of the Plains, were Thanksgiving guests of relatives at Laurens.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bogart and children, and Mrs Mary Bogart, all of Sidney, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howard, 13 Kearney street.

Dr. and Mrs. E. Champlin of Fleischmanns, with their two daughters, were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S L. Champlin, Oneonta Plains.

Mrs. R. G. Slocum and two children, of 8 Pearl street, are passing a few days with friends in Schenectady.

George Rathbone of 13 Kearney street is enjoying a vacation as a guest of his sons, Oscar Rathbone of Englewood, N J., and Clarence, of South Wilton, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tillson of the Plains, together with a party of relatives were pleasantly entertained at Kilkenny's Thanksgiving Day, being the guests of Mr. and Mrs S. S. Kilkenny

THE SLOUCHY MAN NEEDS A LIFT

Has Clogged Blood and Should Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan

The man who walks with a slouch usually has a heavy, dull expression on his face. The eyelids droop in a lazy, languid way and he goes around feeling dead tired most of the time. Bad blood, all clogged up with poisons from the system, makes a man feel that way.

That man with bad blood has let himself get in a run-down condition. He has overdone somehow, either physically by straining, trying to do too much, or mentally, by worrying, doing without sufficient sleep. He needs new blood. Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken in regular doses every day is just the right blood builder. It drives off all the poisons. It makes blood rich and red. When the blood gets back to normal, the color improves and the eyes brighten. It braces a man up.

Druggists sell it in liquid or convenient tablet form. The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on each package. Advt

Thomas Jefferson in "RIP VAN WINKLE"

IT'S SIMPLY MARVELOUS ON THE SCREEN!

As a novel "Rip Van Winkle" has brought joy to millions — kiddies and "grown-ups" alike — from the time Washington Irving penned the immortal lines right up to our own day.

In play form it has won for itself a place unique in the annals of the American stage and has served to make "Joe" Jefferson, who created the title role, famous and wealthy.

And now, upon the silversheet, Thomas Jefferson gives new life to this ageless classic. More engrossing than either book or play, it will endure for all time as one of the greatest productions the screen has ever known.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN

In Basketball Game Dec. 3 Between Wanderers and Colgate Collegians.

Much interest is being shown about the city in the basketball game at the state armory on Saturday, December 3, between the Oneonta Wanderers and the Colgate Collegians. The tickets are going fast and indications are that the armory will house a record crowd for the game.

The Wanderers are now in their stride and are aiming to make the going hard for the college boys. That the Oneonta team will have to play at top-notch speed to be in the running for last honors is indicated by the line-up of the Collegians. Kinney, who pitched for Unadilla this summer, will play one forward. Leonard, football star and on the varsity basketball team, will be the other forward. Masters, also a football man, will play center. He is one of the best centers in collegiate circles and has received many offers from professional teams. Webster, football captain, is one guard and Hermans, also a footballer and an athlete who needs no introduction to Oneonta fan will fill the other guard position.

CONCERNING GASOLINE.

Inasmuch as the petrol wagon has in large measure displaced the horse-drawn vehicle, and gasoline has taken the place of hay and oats in the evolution of power, recent government statistics relative to the production of the well-known coal-oil product may be of interest to those who get little if any satisfaction from perusal of the figures of the Chicago grain market. From these statistics it appears that in the month of September there were 438,083,634 gallons of gasoline consumed in the United States, a falling off of 65,000,000 from August, in which month the domestic consumption was the largest on record. The decline of stocks on hand, at the refineries, however, continued, so that on September 30 there were 515,325,998 gallons, which is 53,000,000 gallons less than on the last day of August. The production for September was 416,913,000, being a decrease of 25,000 gallons a day from the month of August. Large as the amount of domestic oil produced, there were nearly eight millions of gallons imported, mostly, doubtless, from Mexico, and the shipments to foreign countries and insular possessions totalled 17,000,000 gallons.

In the first nine months of the current year production of gasoline increased ten per cent in the United States, imports decreased 17 per cent, exports decreased 15 per cent and domestic consumption increased six per cent. The production of kerosene dropped off 16 per cent as compared with the like nine months of 1920, and domestic consumption was 13 per cent less. The latter fact, along with a contrasting similar increase in the use of gas and fuel oils, indicates a gradual change from kerosene oil to gas and other illuminants.

While every quarter of the world is being explored for the purpose of securing new supplies of petroleum products, it is self-evident that the supply is limited and that when once exhausted there is no way by which it can be replenished. The hope of the world, therefore, so far as light, heat and power are concerned, is the utilization of water power, largely now going to waste, and the exploiting of alcoholic spirits which in unlimited amount can be produced from practically every form of vegetation.

FOR MERCHANTS' CONFERENCE

Dinner Reservations Can Now be Made Through City Members—Tentative Program Announced.

Reservations for the dinner meeting of the second annual Merchants' Conference of Otsego County, to be held Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, December 6 and 7, in Oneonta, are being received this morning by practically every merchant in Oneonta. Since the sessions are open to the public, any who fail to receive an application card may secure one at the Chamber of Commerce offices. Merchants in the county outside of Oneonta are being sent application blanks by Floyd S. Barlow of Cooperstown, manager of the County Improvement association.

The 140 merchants who attended this institute last January were greatly pleased with the valuable information furnished by the speakers on the program. More than half of those in attendance were business men of Oneonta. This year's conference will be even more largely attended, the committee believes, and the program arranged has been given careful study and is expected to be even more instructive than that of last year.

The conference ha been arranged by a committee representing Oneonta Chamber of Commerce, Otsego County Improvement association, Cooperstown Chamber of Commerce, Oneonta Merchants' association, Otsego County Farm and Home Bureaus and Prof. J. E. Boyle representing the Extension Department of the State College of Agriculture.

The tentative program as announced by the committee follows:

Tuesday Evening, Dec. 6.

Dinner—one dollar. Dutch treat—everybody pays for himself.
H. J. Bigelow. Inspirational address on Community building.
A Farmer. "What I would do if I Were Running a Country Store." (A frank criticism of the retailer.)
A Farmer's wife. "What a Woman Expects of Her Retailer."
A Merchant. Reply to criticisms.

Wednesday Forenoon, Dec. 7.

Session for merchants. Round table discussion of such topics as credit, advertising, trade papers, turnover, window display, price mark-ups, sales days, etc., led by H. J. Bigelow.
H. J. Bigelow, talk on technique of running a store.

Wednesday Afternoon

Prof. J. E. Boyle, Extension Dept., State College of Agriculture, "The Hope of the Conference."
Miss A. J. Werner, Home Economics Dept., State College of Agriculture, "Quality and Price Problem—Who is Responsible."
Alvin E. Dodd, manager Domestic Distribution Dept., Chamber of Commerce of the United States, "Problems in Retailing."

Wednesday Evening

Dinner one dollar, Dutch treat.
Frank Farrington, Delhi, associate editor, "National Grocer," "Advertising and Selling."
William W. Orr, editor "The Credit Monthly," "Credit and Sound Business Methods."

Births.

FREEDOM'S CALL.

Freedom, matchless word that fills the soul with hope and joy sublime!
Freedom, bugle call that sounds its blast adown the sands of time!
Mighty, stalwart, forceful, regnant, sound its music loud and clear,
Let its peal ring with triumph as it thrills upon the ear.

Grandly, freely passed they onward, those who gave their lives of youth,
Fighting staunchly, never halting, in their swift advance for Truth.
Those who, sitting now in council, weigh the destinies of men,
Bind the cords or break the shackles, by the weight of voice or pen,—
These shall see, as in a vision, all who've fought for Freedom's reign
As in ranks and serried columns, they appear to view again,
Standing thus in battle armor, spears advanced along the plain,
Valiant hosts who've bled for Freedom or been numbered with the slain.

These shall raise their voice for Freedom, plead for firm and lasting Peace,
When the shackles and the burdens and the greeds of wars shall cease.
When blind grief at war's dread horrors shall for all time cease lament,
And the heart of every nation trusteth not in armament.
Winifred Langworthy Brown.

ASSISTANT AT ST. MARY'S

Rev. Father John Murphy Named by Bishop Gibbons as Assistant to Rev. Father W. D. Noonan of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

Rev. Father John Murphy of Little Falls has been named by Bishop Gibbons of this diocese as assistant to Rev. Father William D. Noonan, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, the latter announced to his congregation yesterday morning. Beginning next Sunday he will assist Father Noonan in the regular work of the parish, the membership and activities of which have increased to such an extent as to make it impracticable for Father Noonan to do the work alone.

Father Noonan has known Father Murphy for several years and gives him an unqualified endorsement both as to personality and as to qualifications. He is a graduate of Niagara university at Niagara Falls and was ordained to the priesthood four years ago. At first on the missionary band of the diocese, he was later appointed as assistant pastor of St. Francis de Sales church at Herkimer, whence he comes to Oneonta. Father Murphy is a nephew of Rev. Father Dennis E. Murphy, beloved pastor of St. Mary's church for several year prior to his death in 1905. His home is in Little Falls.

For some time past the growth of St. Mary's parish has been such as to make the appointment of an assistant to Father Noonan desirable. There has been a large increase in membership and a corresponding increase in church activities. Father Noonan announces that his assistant will help generally in the work of the parish, and that his presence will make possible the holding of three Sunday morning masses instead of two as heretofore. Low mass will be celebrated at 7 o'clock. At 9 o'clock a children's mass will be held and high mass will be at 10:30. This change is effective next Sunday morning.

Sunday Evening Illustrated Lectures.

The first Sunday evening illustrated lectures of the winter was given last evening at the First Presbyterian church with a good attendance considering the unfavorable weather. A large number of attractive colored slides were used to illustrate the subject, "The Makers of America," and Dr. Russell gave an interesting talk on the great men who had contributed to the history of our country.

Dr. Russell announced that the lectures would continue every Sunday evening throughout the winter, with the exception of the evenings when the community services are held. An illustrated song service probably will be on the program for next Sunday evening.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

No Repealing This Law

At a labor convention a delegate opposed a strike for higher wages on the ground that the operation of the law of supply and demand would forbid a raise. Another delegate it is said moved that the chair appoint a committee to bring about the repeal of that law.

This might perhaps just as well have happened at some meeting of directors considering a price advance. That nuisance, the law of supply and demand, often stands in the way of directors and labor leaders alike, but it cannot be removed by resolution, and it does not accept ignorance as an excuse for those who offend against it.

When two men seek one job their pay goes down. When there is an oversupply of merchandise prices go down. When there is an undersupply of homes rents go up. Artificial price fixing has offered only temporary expedients to suspend the operations of a law that has a rare ability for working itself out in one way when checked in another.

Efforts to keep prices where they were by artificial props have lately used up much of the countries thinking power. But workers and manufacturers have begun to see the hard reality of the supply and demand law. Sooner or later men will learn that they have no more hope of repealing the law of supply and demand than they have of stopping the law of gravitation. When they accept the law they can at last begin to find their way around in accordance with it—just as the child walks or the airplane flies in accordance with gravity.—[New York Sun.

Naval Forces.

The opposition of the United States to any concession to Japan in the matter of capital ships is due to the difficulty of stopping a course of concessions if once begun. It is said that if Japan shall be allowed to retain the Mutsu, America and England will each insist on keeping one more capital ship. This will disturb the ratios and will stimulate France and Italy to further demands. The naval strengths in the Mediterranean are yet to be determined, and if the Hughes plan is to be pulled out a little in one direction, and then in another, it may lose its shape entirely.—[Philadelphia Record.

State Vs. Local Rights.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Chicago enforce case is of wide interest because of its bearing on local government. For a hundred years the controversy was over the relation of state rights to the sovereignty of the nation. Now it has to do with the relation between the state and its municipalities. The decision is a victory for the state over the municipality, logically based upon the same reasoning that upheld national sovereign in its struggle with the states.—[New York Tribune.

Old World Conditions.

The Old World is as the staves of a barrel when the hoops have rotted. Old empires are crumbling into jealous and hateful fragments without pattern, coherence or restraint. And a time when mutual need calls loudest for mutual help, each of these petty fragments builds higher its barricade. The Old World must come to the New World's concept of how to federate or perish. But while it will make this progress slowly with blood and tears, it has all been made for us.—[New York American.

A Mile of Names.

Secretary Hughes is no doubt pleased to learn that some 200,000 women, representing ten times that number, approved so heartily of the conference that they have signed a document saying so. But what will he do with this testimonial of their approbation? There is a full mile of these signatures and the paper is wound upon spools and tied with white ribbon. It makes a curious memento of a great event.—[Philadelphia Inquirer.

Asking Papa.

"Oh, Reginald, have you spoken to papa yet?" asked the excited, sweet young thing. "No dear," was the reply of Reginald. "Those cuts on my face I got at the barber shop."—[Yonkers Statesman.

And Paying $10 a Day

Another six weeks and the post cards from southward will bear the glout, "Sleeping under nothing but the sheet every night."—[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Saving a Little Every Month.

The war debt was reduced $465,000,000 last month, which shows that the Republicans are making good their promise to cut down the cost of government.—[Milwaukee Journal.

FOUR DIVORCE CASES ON TRIAL

Marital Differences Prominent at Special Term of Supreme Court Before Justice Kellogg Saturday—Flax Island Booze Case.

There were eight cases before Justice A. L. Kellogg at supreme court chambers in Oneonta Saturday and of these, four were for the dissolution of the marital tie. Of these cases, two had their origin in Oneonta, one in Norwich and one in Sidney. The actions enumerated were as follows:

Chester L. Price against Grace L. Price of Oneonta, action for divorce on statutory grounds. Evidence taken and decree granted. Claude V. Smith for plaintiff.

Irene Jones vs. Harrison Jones, a Norwich case, action for divorce, statutory grounds. Evidence taken, decree granted. David F. Lee esq. of Norwich appeared for plaintiff. No appearance for defendant.

Lewis Tyler against Frank Tyler, a Sidney case. Action to annul marriage. Evidence taken and decree granted. Herbert C. Kibbe esq. of Sidney for plaintiff.

Margaret H. Randall against Harry Randall, action for divorce of statutory grounds. Evidence taken and case held open for further proof. Lee D. VanWoert esq. of Oneonta for plaintiff.

Other cases heard by Justice Kellogg at the Saturday term were as follows:

Albert Morris et al against Alva Walling et al. Action for foreclosure. L. W. Hathaway appointed referee to compute. Seybolt & Seybolt for plaintiff.

In the matter of the intermediate judicial settlement of the accounts and proceedings of Orange L. Van Horne as committee of the person and estate of Mary E. Claxton, an incompetent person. Intermediate account presented and approved and order granted judicially settling the same. Fletcher A. Blanchard, of Cooperstown for committee. W. O. Hinterminster, special guardian, for incompetent.

Herbert B. Woodbury against Catharine Whitney, Eloise Whitney and Charles Whitney. Action of partition. Report of referee as to rights and interests of the parties presented and directed filed and interlocutory judgment granted. Orange L. Van Horne of Cooperstown was appointed referee to sell. J. D. Reed of Richfield Springs for plaintiff. Cooke & Bassanger of Cooperstown for William I. Smith, guardian, ad litem for certain defendants.

In the matter of the application of Fred S. Williams for a warrant to search for and seize intoxicating liquors kept stored and deposited for unlawful use, sale or distribution in premises on a highway known as Flax Island creek road in the town of Otego. Motion to dismiss proceedings for lack of jurisdiction. Set down for argument at Chambers in Oneonta, December 3rd, 10 o'clock a. m. Adrian A. Pierson, District Attorney for the people. George L. Beckes and Arthur Seybolt for defendants.

This is the case in which three Russians—Alec Ufpnziant, Laul Saco and Mike Conkovitch, were indicted by the last grand jury. In this proceeding the defendants asked the warrant to be set aside on the grounds that the alleged facts did not justify its issuance.

Transferred to Carbondale.

Charles H. Norris, who was until recently general foreman at the D. & H. car shops in this city, has been transferred to Carbondale, Pa., where he has been given a more responsible position with the company. His departure from Oneonta is regretted and many friends of himself and family will cherish best wishes for the continued success and happiness in their new home.

DR. SCOTT TO SPEAK

Noted After Dinner Speaker to Address Baraca Class of Main Street Baptist Church Banquet Tuesday Evening.

Members of the Baraca class of the Main street Baptist church and friends are anticipating the banquet to be served in the church parlors at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening not only because of the social affair but because of the anticipated treat in store in the address of the evening.

The committee considers itself fortunate in securing for this evening Dr. Willard Scott of Brookline, Mass., unquestionably one of the most entertaining and pleasing after dinner speakers who has ever been heard in Oneonta. Dr. Scott has a style peculiarly his own and he never fails to delight all who hear him. All who have heard him on previous visits will anticipate the opportunity this banquet affords while others who have heard of him will be even more anxious to hear him on Tuesday evening.

There remain only a limited number of tickets which can be secured by individuals outside the class who desire. Until they are exhausted they will be found on sale at the Oneonta Department store, at Bookhout & Kark's and at Hoffman's. They are priced at 75 cents and those who make early reservations will be most likely to secure one of those remaining unsold.

Rip Van Winkle Here.

"Rip Van Winkle" with Thomas Jefferson, son of the immortal Joseph Jefferson, in the title role, has been booked by Manager Rose to be shown at the Strand theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. This is the photoplay that was privately filmed before an audience of teachers at the Strand some weeks ago and which caused much favorable comment as a faithful presentation of Washington Irving's classic.

Store of Westcott & Barnes at Colliers Is Destroyed

Stock Worth $10,000 and Insured for $7,500 Lost in Fire Sunday Morning—Building, an Old Landmark, Owned by Ella Lyman, Was Uninsured

Fire which broke out shortly before 6 o'clock Sunday morning destroyed the store building at Colliers owned by Miss Ella Lyman and the entire stock of goods of Wescott & Barnes, conducting a general store therein, also the household goods of George Westcott, who occupied the second floor over the store and the shed, barn and shop east of the store building and doing damage, though slight, to the farmhouse of Miss Lyman, located south and in close proximity to the store building. Westcott & Barnes carried a stock of about $10,000 and had an insurance of $7,500 with H. M. Bard & Son agency. Mr. Westcott's household goods were valued at from $1,800 to $2,000 and he had insurance of $1,000 upon them. Miss Lyman had no insurance on the store and other buildings and a small policy on the farm house, which will cover the loss thereon.

The saving of the farmhouse was due to the hard work of a volunteer fire brigade formed by the Villagers and occupants of nearby farms, who with the aid of pails and milk cans managed to keep the building wet down and also to extinguish several incipient blazes that broke out in the shingled roof. The paint was scorched and the side damaged. Good work coupled with the fact that what wind existed at the time was coming from the south saved the structure.

The fire was discovered by Arthur Owens, the occupant of the farmhouse who works the farm for R. R. Mackey, the lessee. He was leaving the house for the cowbarns when he observed what he first thought was the light of a lantern in the store, but a second glance disclosed that the rear of the store was afire and the smoke was pouring from the building. He gave an alarm and residents of the village hurried to the scene.

It was impossible from the first to enter the store for the removal of goods. Robert J. Barnes, one of the firm who resides in the hotel building, hurried to the store and despite the smoke managed to crawl inside the door a few feet, hoping to secure a new cash register recently installed. He quickly realized that he was endangering his own life and quickly backed to the door and escaped. The stock was a general one and considerable of it more or less inflammable. The building was soon a mass of flames.

East of the store and attached to it was a shed for hitching purposes, when in former years customers drove some distance to do trading, and also a barn and shop building, formerly and for years used as a carriage and blacksmith shop, all of which were soon in flames. The fire fighters confined their efforts to the Lyman farmhouse.

At one time it was though that the row of houses south of the store would have to go and a request was phoned to this city for the assistance of the fire department. Chairman Baird of the fire commission, doubtless having in mind recent unfortunate experiences resulting in damages to the apparatus and that the small truck was out of commision and being repaired outside the city, at first refused to give consent to leaving the city without the protection of the big truck. Later he dressed and went to department headquarters and after conferring with Chief Choate as to the possibility of pumping water from the river with the trick on the bridge, he personally accompanied the firemen with the truck to Colliers. On arrival the store and other buildings were gone. The chemicals were used to dampen the fire on the farmhouse side to prevent any further menace. There is no possibility that the store could have been saved had the firemen gone when the call was first received.

Store Had Been Entered.

There is little doubt that the store had been entered during the night and that the fire had been caused by burglars, accidentally or intentionally to cover the burglary. Robert Barnes closed the store and before doing so put the books and accounts away and closed the door, turning the knob, though not locking it, the firm having left the combination on the handle preferring not to have the safe damaged. The door of the safe was open when it was first seen and the books including all the accounts of the firm were destroyed. Chief Horton of this city and Sheriff Williams both visited the fire and believed that the store had been entered. State troopers later visited the ruins and they are reported to have doubts about the burglary theory, intimating that the heat may have warped the door open. The fact that a few coins were found inside the safe is cited as indicating that the safe had not been robbed. The belief is quite general that the store had been burglarized. No on heard or saw anything of burglars. Mr. Barnes is postmaster at Colliers and there were about $150 in stamps in the safe. No money was left in the safe other than small coin.

Plans for Future

Postmaster Barnes will open a temporary post office in the hotel building today. The firm hope to continue business at Colliers and the residents desire a store. Whether the store building will be rebuilt has not been decided. It has been suggested that a portion of the hotel block, possibly the former office and as much additional room as would be required could be rearranged to provide quarters for a store. It is not improbable that a decision will be reached in a few days.

Store a Landmark.

The store building was erected about the time the D. & H. railroad arrived at Colliers by the late Jared Goodyear and many thousands of dollars worth of goods have passed over its counters. Diefendorf & Brown were early occupants of the store and did business there for years. Later George Luther bought out Mr. Diefendorf and the firm was Luther & Brown. Mr. Luther conducted the store individually for years and he sold to Percy R. Southworth. He in turn was succeeded by Mackey & Russell, they by Levant W. Seeger and the latter by Westcott & Barnes. They took over the store in December last, renovated the interior, put in modern heating and other improvemnts and stocked the store with new and a wider range of goods. They were doing a good business and all their friends in the city and elsewhere will regret their misfortune.

It was fortunate that Mr. Westcott and his wife and two children were not in the building that night. They went to Sidney Saturday evening to spend the week-end with her mother, Mrs. M. A. Bogart.

ALL EX-SERVICE PERSONS

Having Claims Against the Government Are Urged to Consult the Clean-Up Squad at the Post Office Today or Tomorrow.

The Clean-Up Squad of the U. S. Veterans' bureau will be at the post office today and tomorrow and every ex-service person who has a claim against the government because of war service is urged to see the squad, which will make an endeavor to "clean-up" all claims in the county during its short stay in Oneonta.

The squad will contain three doctors, a vocational training expert, a compensation and insurance expert, an American legion representative, and a field representative of the American Red Cross. It will handle cases involving compensation, insurance, vocational training, allotments, back-pay and medical treatment.

Persons intending to interview the squad should take with them original discharges, awards of compensation, and any other papers relating to any other claims which may have been previously made.

CHAMBER COMMERCE DINNER

Date Changed to Thursday Evening to Avoid Conflict with Another Meeting.

Thursday evening instead of Friday has been set for the third quarterly Chamber of Commerce membership meeting and dinner to be held at 6:30 o'clock at the Hotel Oneonta, with the meeting following after the dinner. Reservation cards for the dinner will be in the hands of members by Tuesday morning and must be returned by Wednesday evening to enable the committee to make the necessary arrangements. The banquet of Hartwick Seminary alumni on Friday evening made impossible the holding of the Chamber of Commerce dinner at that date.

A forum on a projected bond issue to provide for recreational facilities in Wilber and Neahwa parks, will be held at the membership meeting following the rendering of the quarterly report on activities by the Chamber's board of directors. On the decision of the members at this forum will rest the question as to whether the Chamber of Commerce should suggest to the common council that a special bond issue election of taxpayers be held to vote amounts needed for the facilities for recreation recommended by the committee of the chamber of which Dr. F. H. Marx is chairman.

After the announcement in Saturday's Star that the question of a bond issue for the parks would be brought up at this meeting, considerable sentiment pro and con has been expressed around the city by men and women interested. A full explanation of the facts has not as yet been made publicly, so that all citizens are being requested to withhold their decision in the matter until they have heard the committee's report which will be rendered Thursday evening and the interesting discussion that will follow.

An effort was made by Chamber of Commerce officials to set a date for the dinner which would not conflict with other occasions, so that no citizen interested may be prevented from attending and participating in the discussion of the bond issue project. In order not to postpone the meeting any longer, it was found necessary to hold it on Thursday evening, contrary to the organization's practice not to hold meetings on the same night as prayer services in some of the churches. Since the meeting itself will not get under way until after the prayer services have closed, the committee hopes that those desiring may be enabled to attend both meetings.

Any citizens of Oneonta interested in the questions to be brought up at the membership meeting and forum, and who are not members of the Chamber of Commerce, are invited to attend the meeting and the dinner as well, reservations for the latter being made at the Chamber of Commerce offices.

FUNERAL OF P. A. LIDELL

Many Attend Services Saturday—Burial at Schuyler Lake.

There was a large attendance of friends and neighbors at the funeral of the late Paul A. Lidell, which was held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at his late home on Morgan avenue. The service was conducted by Rev. J. C. Johnson of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church, who read appropriate scripture selections and followed with a brief discourse in which fitting tribute was paid to one who was long a respected resident of this city. There were many beautiful floral tributes, including besides those from relatives and friends, offerings from the High school teachers at Atlantic City, N. J., and the Loyal Helpers of the Elm Park church.

Following the service, the body was taken to Schuyler Lake for interment in the family plot in the village cemetery. The bearers in Oneonta were Henry Ellsworth, Charles Parish, Harold France and Julius J. Turner. At Schuyler Lake they were George Randall, George Rider, Mr. Mercer and Fayette Allen of that place.

Among those present at the funeral from a distance were his son and daughter-in-law, Prof and Mrs. Burton W. Lidell of Atlantic City, N. J.; Miss Carrie Kane and Mrs. Anderson Lathrop of Hartwick, and Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of Schuyler Lake.

MARRIAGES.

Martin-Latocco.

Joseph Martin and Theresa Latocco were united in marriage by Rev. Father William J. Noonan at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church Saturday morning. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Micarone. The couple, who have many friends in the city, will reside on West Broadway.

The Joyce stores have a splendid line of reed furniture, over stuffed parlor suits, mahogany chairs and lots of new patterns in rugs. Unadilla, N. Y. advt mwf

SUICIDE AT COOPERSTOWN

Justin Lange, Former Proprietor of Carr's Hotel and Manager of Five Mile Point Inn, Commits Suicide by Hanging Saturday—Was Native of France But Long Resident of Cooperstown—Funeral Tuesday.

Cooperstown, Nov. 27. — Justin Lange, for many years a resident of this village and formerly well known as hotel keeper to the traveling public in county and vicinity, committed suicide by hanging early Saturday afternoon at his home on Chestnut street. It appears that, though he had not been in the best of health for some time, he was about his home and the village as usual, and there was nothing to indicate a mental condition such as would impel self-destruction.

Saturday morning he visited the business places on Main street, and those who saw him observed nothing unusual in his condition. Returning to his home at about noon, he asked his wife to go up street and purchase some lemons. As he appeared to be indistent, she went after the fruit; she was absent only about a quarter of an hour, and on her return found her husband hanging by his neck in the cellar. The body was still warm, and after working over him herself for a few minutes she summoned assistance. Resuscitation, however, was impossible, though every effort was made.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Edward C. Petrie will officiate and burial will be in Lakewood cemetery. The Masonic committal service will be held at the church, following the regular service.

Mr. Lange, who was a Frenchman by birth, was about 60 years of age. He came to New York when a young man and after some time in that city came to Cooperstown as chef at the Hoffman house. Later he purchased the Bowmaker saloon and restaurant, and afterwards Carr's hotel, which for several years he conducted. Afterwards he sold this property to John W. Brown, and became manager of the Five Mile Point inn on Otsego lake. Returning to Cooperstown he repurchased the Carr hotel, which subsequently he sold and retired from business.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Mrs. Ellen Baker of Union. So far as is known he has no living blood relation. Two brothers were killed in the French army in the Franco-Prussian war in 1870. He was a member of the Cooperstown Masonic lodge and chapter, and during his long residence in Cooperstown had made many friends among citizens and the traveling public who will regret to learn of the sorrowful circumstances of his death.

GREGORY-MILLER WEDDING.

Popular Young Couple Quietly Married at First Baptist Parsonage.

Claude Earl Gregory and Julia Elizabeth Miller, both well known and popular residents of the city, were quietly married at the First Baptist parsonage at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning, the Rev. Dr. Edson J. Farley officiating. Miss Margaret Palmer was maid of honor and Frank Gregory, a brother of the groom, was best man. Following the service a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's former home and soon thereafter Mr. and Mrs. Gregory left on a wedding trip to points in the northern part of the state. Upon their return they will reside at 46 Church street.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Miller of 446 Main street and is a young lady whose accomplishments and personality have made her a host of friends. She is a graduate of the Oneonta High school, class of 1912, and of the Oneonta Normal school, class of 1915. Since graduation from the latter institution she has taught in Troy and Sidney and for the past two years in the Chestnut street school of this city, where her efficient methods and engaging personality have won for her the respect and esteem of both pupils and fellow teachers.

The groom, who has resided with his mother, Mrs. Mary Gregory, at 46 Church street, is one of the most popular young men of the city. He was graduated from the Oneonta High school in 1915. At the outbreak of the World war he enlisted in the field bakery company of the 27th division and served overseas with that outfit for nearly two years. He now holds a good position in the clerical division at the D. & H. shops. Mr. Gregory is a former High school basketball star and is now playing with the Oneonta Wanderers.

The many friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Gregory extend sincere wishes for a long and happy married life.

DEATH OF MRS. RATHBONE.

Respected Resident of City Expires Suddenly on Friday.

Emogene Beams, wife of the late Oliver Rathbone, died suddenly, probably between 11 and 12 o'clock yesterday morning, at her home at 1 Draper street in this city. She had been in her usual health during the present summer and autumn, and save for occasional attacks of dizziness of which she had complained, there had been nothing to occasion anxiety concerning her condition. On Sunday morning she arose with the family, partook of a hearty breakfast and was apparently in good health and spirits. At about half past ten o'clock the other members of the family departed for church, and on their return at a few minutes past twelve they found her lifeless body fallen across a chair in the living room. Her body was still warm and it was evident that death had occurred only a short time before. Coroner Getman, who was at once summoned, pronounced heart disease to be the cause of the death, which was doubtless instantaneous.

Mrs. Rathbone was born in Oneonta township, May 15, 1843, and was a daughter of Jacob and Nancy (Rhodes) Beams. She was married to Oliver Rathbone about 60 years ago, and their earlier married life was spent in the town of Milford. Over 30 years since, however, the family moved to Oneonta which had ever since been its home, Mr. Rathbone dying here about 17 years ago. The surviving members of the family are two daughters, Mrs. C. L. Murray of Milford and Miss Ella M. Rathbone, who resided with her mother; also by one granddaughter, Miss E. Belle Murray of Oneonta; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Eckerson of Worcester and Mrs. George Westcott of this city; and two brothers, Issac Beams of Oneonta and Homer Beams of Milford. She had for many years been a member of the Woman's Relief Corps of this city.

The funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. on Wednesday at her late home on Draper street. Rev. Dr. J. C. Russell of the First Presbyterian church will officiate and interment will be in the family plot at Riverside.

The deceased was a much respected woman, a good neighbor, a loyal friend and a loving mother and grandmother. During her long residence here she made many friends who will sympathize with the family so suddenly bereaved.

A THANKSGIVING WEDDING.

Tracy Mathews and Miss Marian Gemmel Married Last Thursday.

Delhi, Nov. 27.—The marriage of Tracy Mathews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Mathows, and Miss Marian Gemmel, both of Delhj, took place at 5:30 p. m. on Thanksgiving day at the Methodist parsonage here, the pastor, Rev. Grant Robinson, officiating. The ocuple were attended by the groom's bother, Gordon Mathews, and Miss Hazel Scott. The bride wore a pretty gown of white silk net and her going-away costume was of a soft brown color. Mrs. Mathews, who is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Gemmel, has been teaching in Newburgh since the beginning of the present school year. The young couple are now on an auto trip to Binghamton, visiting the bride's sister, Mrs. Earl Knapp, for a few days. They will be at home in Newburgh next week, where Mrs. Mathews will continue her teaching and Mr. Mathews expects to engage in garage work. He has had two years' experience in the garage of Robert Murphy in this village.

Remembered by Local Grange.

The Delhi grange made a fine gift to one of their number, J. S. Williams, on Thanksgiving day, consisting of a generous box of fruit and nuts and a bouquet of carnations and roses. Mr. Williams has been a partial invalid since last summer, when he was struck by a hay fork that fell while he was harvesting his hay and had several ribs broken. This month he was operated upon for the trouble and is improving, though somewhat slowly. He is not able to work much.

Home for Thanksgiving Recess.

Several Delhi teachers and students came home for the brief Thanksgiving vacation. Among the teachers are Lena Foss, New Hartford; Mary Fuller, Baldwin, L. SWEDEN IN RECORD GROWTH

Increase of 56,725 in Population Greatest in 100 Years, Official Figures Show.

Stockholm.—The population of Sweden numbered 5,903,762 persons in January this year, according to official figures just now published. The increase during 1920 was 56,725.

This increase is the highest recorded in Sweden in the last 100 years, both absolutely and relatively.

The mortality was 13.29 per thousand, which is the lowest hitherto recorded in Sweden, and Swedish statisticians proudly report this figure as a world's record. They affirm that Sweden is the healthiest place on earth.

CONVENTION CLOSES

YESTERDAY ENDS STATE MEETING OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S CHRISTIAN UNION.

Thirty Delegates From All Parts of the State in Attendance—Business Sessions Saturday Followed By Social Gathering at Woman's Club in the Evening—Sermon at Chapin Memorial Church Yesterday Preached by Rev. L. C Nichols, Former Pastor.

The state convention of the Young People's Christian union of the Universalist church, which had been in session in the city since Friday, held its last meeting yesterday morning and by night the delegates had left for their homes in various parts of the state The convention was one of the best in the history of the state organization and the manner in which it was conducted reflected much credit upon the members of the Oneonta union

The Saturday morning session, held at Chapin Memorial church, was largely concerned with business matters Following a devotional period led by Ralph Balfour of Watertown, the roll call of delegates was heard and showed that 33 delegates were present, nine of them from New York city The reports of the president, secretary and treasurer were then read and showed that the Union is in a flourishing condition throughout the state and that 1921 has been one of the best years since its formation. At 11 o'clock Rev Stanley Manning of Boston, national director of young people's work, addressed the meeting, his principal point being a plea for harmony in the work of the national union The address was much enjoyed and brought out many facts of interest and profit to the delegates

A devotional meeting opened the afternoon session, at which the business of the convention was continued Reports of various committees were heard and pledges for state work were received by Andy M Nichol and H Elmer Peters, both of Canton Theological seminary. $200 was pledged on the floor The report of the committee on recommendations and resolutions was then read The recommendations included proposals that the membership be increased to 600 in the state during the coming year, that five members of the union go into the ministry or into missionary work, that $250 be raised for the Legion of the Cross, that the last Sunday in the year be made Y. P. C. U. Sunday, and that a large delegation be sent to the national convention to be held at Worcester, Mass, next July. It was also decided to put forth a budget of $630 for fostering work in the state.

Election of Officers.

The election of officers for the coming year was then held. Miss Helene Ulrich, formerly of this city but now of Canton Theological seminary, was elected president. F. E. Benton of Canton was chosen vice president and Miss Ethel Freeman of Brooklyn was relected secretary. Neils S. Nickelson of Brooklyn was elected treasurer. The trustees chosen were Miss Bertha Kramer of Cooperstown, E. R. McLaughlin of New York and Ralph Balfour of Watertown.

During the evening a social gathering was held at the Woman's club. A short program was presented including a piano duet by Lillian Woodward and Francis Campbell, recitations by Audrey Kock, a violin solo by Dorothea Kock, accompanied by Miss Cecil Cook, and aesthetic dances. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served, during the course of which the delegates were asked to respond to toasts A surprise to all was the presentation to National Director Manning of a mammoth chocolate cake, his "favorite beverage."

Yesterday's Service.

The convention closed yesterday morning with the service at the Chapin Memorial church Miss Ulrich gave the scripture reading and Mr Manning offered prayer, following which the sermon was delivered by Rev. L. C. Nichols of Utica, former pastor of the Chapin church His remarks were directed at the young people whom he urged to take advantage of their opportunities and to forge ahead on the path of an upright, Christian life Following the sermon, Rev. Stanley Manning held a consecration service, during which every delegate and every member of the Oneonta union consecrated themselves to the service of God and His Son, Jesus Christ.

Mother Says Her Lot Justifies Profanity

Arraigned on a charge of profanity, Mrs. Agnes White of Columbus, O., thirty-seven years old, and the mother of 14 children, said:

"Judge, anybody that had to live as hard a life as I do, would cuss."

Mrs. White testified that she was forced to take in washing and other work to support herself and her children. The judge dismissed her, after telling her to go and curse no more.

THE PARISH PRIEST

To Be Presented at the Oneonta Theatre Wednesday Evening, Dec. 14, for Benefit of Knights of Columbus, by Local Talent.

Oneonta council, No 261, Knights of Columbus, announces the production under the direction of Al McKay, but with a local cast of characters, of The Parish Priest" at the Oneonta theatre one night only, Wednesday evening, December 14, and promising the public a pleasing presentation and an evening of enjoyment solicit the purchase of tickets

The presentation made last winter will be remembered by all who witnessed it and it is believed that the cast will be found fully as capable and the play quite as fascinating and interesting

The general committe is composed of David Devine and J. J. Hurley and the sale of tickets is in charge of A. B. Cobb, who announces that they are in the hands of all members. They are priced at $1 10 for the lower floor and 83 cents for the balcony. These prices include the war tax

At a recent meeting of the Knights it was voted to donate 10 per cent of the shares of the local council of the proceeds to the Oneonta chapter of the American Red Cross to assist in the home work of that excellent organization.

ROYAL SALUTE TO HERRING

Hungry Folk of Petrograd Welcome With Cheers a Big Cargo of Dutch Fish.

Riga.—Honors such as are usually accorded to royalty or to officials of high rank were given the Dutch steamer Alexander Polden when it arrived at Petrograd recently, says the newspaper Izvestia of Moscow. The steamer brought the first large cargo of food that has entered the harbor for about three years, and as it passed Kronstadt it was saluted by the battleship Marat, while Russian sailors lined the decks and cheered. The Dutch captain dipped his colors, while the ship's band played and the vessel steamed direct to the pier and began to unload its cargo of herring.

With years of starvation behind them, dock workers, by day and night shifts, unloaded 5,350 barrels of the ship's cargo so swiftly that the next day twenty carloads of herring were dispatched to Moscow, while the rest was left for distribution in Petrograd. Only the day before the ship arrived the Economic Life wrote as follows about Petrograd:

"The fate of the city is so tragic that no comparison can be found in the world's history. The immense mortality of Russia during the last few years may be regarded as far more tragic than the fall of Pompeii."

Since the Alexander Polden made port two more steamers have arrived at Petrograd, carrying 17,000 barrels of herring, which were quickly unloaded.

Wear Big Colored Handkerchiefs.

Paris.—A voluminous handkerchief, a yard square and of the same color and design as the blouse and veil, is the latest Paris fad. The women tuck or pin the center of the handkerchief in a side pocket, not a breast pocket, leaving the long ends of the handkerchief hanging out six or eight inches.

CAPTURED BY KINDNESS

This is Mrs. Alice J. Farrell and her kangaroo. The kangaroo was hers only temporarily. Both were on the liner Sonoma, bound from Sydney for San Francisco, when two kangaroos in the cargo escaped. One was caught; the other all but bounded into the sea in a rage, before Mrs. Farrell smiled and coaxed it back into captivity.

That was after the kangaroo had sent one sailor flying with a left swing of the tail.

Testing Oil Quality.

One test to ascertain the quality of lubricating oil is to heat a small quantity and hold a flame to the thin smoke which arises. This smoke will flash or catch fire for an instant, and if the oil is of a good grade will flash much quicker than a poor grade.

Moved to Protest.

Floyd's mother had kept him busy keeping the chickens out of the yard for quite a while. He was beginning to get disgusted with the job. Going to his mother he said: "What do you think I am—a chicken shepherd?

EDWARD G. LOWRY

A Writer of Recognized Authority on National Government's Business Meth ds.

No Washington correspondent is better known or more highly esteemed than Edward G. Lowry. That in itself means that he has broad and deep knowledge of national and world affairs; that he is skillful in getting the news and tactful in writing it, and that he has the confidence of the public men with whom he comes in contact. But Mr. Lowry has more than that. He has the really patriotic feeling that the intimate knowledge of the nation's affairs, which he acquires through his work in Washington, should be imparted to the people of the country who have not his privileges, in such a way that they will be led to take that personal interest in the doings of the government, which alone will result in good government. He wants the people to realize that it is their government, answerable to them only, and that they only are responsible for its good qualities and its bad qualities. It is this feeling that has inspired much of Mr. Lowry's best work.

Born in Atlanta in 1876, Mr. Lowry was educated in private schools, the Georgia Military institute and by private tutors, and began his journalistic career at the age of twenty-four. In 1904 he was sent to Washington and has been there almost continuously ever since. He has been the political correspondent of Harper's Weekly, has written many articles for the periodical press and since 1913 has been the Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post, and for a considerable time the managing editor of that paper. When Germany started the World war the government naturally found important work for Mr. Lowry. For two years he was attached to the American embassy in London, and then he returned to become a captain in the aviation section of the signal corps. Then he was assistant military attache at London and on the British front in Flanders, and was with the American Army of Occupation in Germany. For his valuable work he was awarded the British Military Cross. Recently he wrote "Washington Close-Ups," a series of character sketches of eminent figures in the national capital, which the country is reading with vast enjoyment.

Edward G. Lowry.

For two years Mr. Lowry has been making a close study of the business of the government. He is given credit in congress for his aid in passing the budget bill and in bringing about the naming of the joint committee of the house and senate to investigate and report upon the administration and organization of the government executive departments. He now wants the people of the United States to know the details of the United States government, which is their business. He believes the knowledge of these details will make of them better Americans and give them a better government.

No man not imbued with Mr. Lowry's high ideal could have carried out this study of the government business so exhaustively and painstakingly as has he. Probably he now knows more about it than any other man in the world. With extraordinary perseverance and dogged persistence he went after hidden facts and multifarious details—and got them. Nothing was too big for his comprehension or too small for his attention. At one time he went to a member of the cabinet with the statement that the government had on its payrolls, exclusive of the officers and men of the army and navy, one employee for each 68 people of the United States ten years of age and over engaged in gainful occupations. It took that cabinet officer, with the assistants he had at his command, a considerable time, and considerable effort to verify Mr. Lowry's statement, but he found it to be true.

As the result of his careful studies Mr. Lowry has written a series of articles on the business of government income and expense; where the money comes from, and how and for what it is spent; whether the organization of the business side of government is efficient or inefficient; whether the government wastes the money we give it. The series is not in any sense political. It is not an attack, not a muck-raking expedition. It recites facts, conceded, acknowledged facts. These facts come from the men in the government—from the government itself—and they are all facts that every American citizen is entitled to know and should know.

The series of articles on this subject of "Where Your Taxes Go" will be carried in these columns. They should be read by every American who is interested in the welfare of the nation.

Look at Things Calmly.

Much depends on personal attitude. One who is antagonistic to or prejudiced against a thing fails to get what good there may be in it. One who is in a "receptive mood" generally obtains the most benefit. Men cheat themselves oftener than they are cheated by others.

FIGHTING FOR BIG ESTATE

Flat refusal on the part of Mrs. Mary Hammon Murray, widow of James A. Murray, Montana mining millionaire, and her son, Stuart Holdorn, one of the principal beneficiaries under the terms of the will, to enter into any compromise with distant relatives seeking a portion of the $15,000,000 estate, has resulted in a formal contest to break the will filed at Salinas, Cal. Among the relatives contesting the will is Mary Anna M. Flynn of Rochester, N. Y., a sister of the late Mr. Murray, and the following nieces and nephews: Anna, Nellie and Frank Golden of Moscow, Pa.; Mrs. John Martin of Gouldsboro, Pa.; Mrs. Agnes Doyle of St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada; Mrs. Hugh Turner of Detroit, and Emmet Golden of Buffalo, N. Y.

FORTUNE IN BEES

Descendants of Wandering Swarm Bring Farmer Money.

G. E. Bissonnette, a farmer at St. Jean, Man., was tinkering in his woodshed when a swarm of bees settled on a cottonwood tree in his yard.

This was six years ago. From what spot beyond the horizon the bees had come Bissonnette had no idea. But he hurriedly improvised a hive out of a soap box and made the bees at home.

The swarm from nowhere prospered. Bissonnette now has seventy-six colonies that are the descendants of the nomad ancestors of six years ago. Last year he sold two tons of honey at 35 cents a pound for a total of $1,400.

"Fortune," said Bissonnette, "flew to me over my front yard fence."

Eruptions of Kilauea.

The great eruptions from the volcano of Kilauea, in the eastern part of the Island of Hawaii, were those of 1789, 1823, 1832, 1840 and 1868. Kilauea-iki, a companion crater lying a mile north of the main crater, is now extinct.

No Excitement There.

It is contrary to the traditions of the British house of commons for either cards or billiards to be played within its precincts. Members who require indoor recreations are expected to content themselves with chess or draughts.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Supreme Gift

Selecting the usual Christmas gifts—wearables, books, pictures, jewelery—will not trouble you. It is the one distinctive gift—that will make this year's total giving different from last years and those of previous years—that's the task which puzzles you.

Here is a suggestion. Adopt it and the matter will be settled—settled richly and satisfactory—and your Christmas shopping will have been made easy.

The usual gifts are seldom durable,—a few weeks or a few months and their usefulness or their value is gone. Nevertheless we must continue to give them—Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without them. The thing to do is to add the supreme gift!

And you would not be alone in doing it. Thousands and thousands of husbands and fathers in recent years have given this supreme gift. It has become a Christmas Custom, rapidly growing in observance as the years go by.

This describes it:—A document, handed to the wife on Christmas Day, under which she would receive a check for a stated amount each month of her life if you should be taken away. Christmas Day at home, guaranteed to her and your children as long as she lives—sure shelter for her and them—with the Christmas table and gifts;—sure education for the children; freedom from burden and care; all provided by the husband and father, just as he is doing it now; the supreme gift of this year's Christmas Day! It would make her happy, would it not?—would be one more indisputable proof of your loving care for her? And what peace of mind you would have in knowing that her future was assured — that every month regularly, a month's provision —which no one could take away —would come to her down to the latest month of the last year of her life.

This is the supreme gift. Can you find a better one to give distinction to this year's list of presents? Decide now and it will not take long to put the contract into your hands. "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early!"—and it will be done with and done well!

NEW TREATMENT FREES LEPERS

Chaulmoogra Oil Proves Success as a Remedy.

CURES IN JAPAN ARE CITED

Patients Appear to Be Normal After Two Months' Use of the Discovery—Japanese Doctor Estimates That There Are 100,000 Persons in Japan Afflicted With Leprosy—Start Made on Chaulmoogra Plantation in Hawaii to Insure Supply of Oil.

The chaulmoogra oil treatment for leprosy, evolved by Dr. A. L. Dean, president of the University of Hawaii, has produced "remarkable results" in checking the disease in Japan, according to Dr. R. Hoyoshima, director of the medical college of the Imperial University of Kioto, Japan, in an address at Honolulu to leading members of the Japanese community.

Doctor Hoyoshima, who is studying the latest developments in the specific, said that when report of Doctor Dean's discovery reached Japan, chaulmoogra oil was prepared at the medical department of the Kioto university immediately and experiments were made on thirteen lepers. Two months of treatment was so effectual, Doctor Hoyoshima said, that it was impossible for a layman to recognize that the patients ever had been afflicted with leprosy. He added:

"Our experiences resulted so favorably that the medical department of Kioto university has received innumerable requests from leprosy patients to have the treatment administered to them; but our department has been unable to meet the demand. A large number of leprosy patients ask eagerly for the treatment, and this very day a great many of them are waiting for my return."

100,000 Lepers in Japan.

Doctor Hoyoshima estimated that there are 100,000 persons in Japan afflicted with leprosy. The fact that chaulmoogra oil is a curative for leprosy was known in Japan before Doctor Dean's discovery. Doctor Hoyoshima said, but the effect of taking the oil prior to Doctor Dean's experiments was so terrible that many persons preferred to suffer with leprosy rather than submit to the treatment.

A start has been made here on the chaulmoogra plantation which is intended to increase the chaulmoogra oil production in order that an adequate supply might be furnished to the territory and used in the treatment of leprosy. Two thousand chaulmoogra trees have been turned over to the territorial board of agriculture and forestry by the experimental station of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters association and the territory has raised 2,000 more. These will be planted at Waiahole, Hawaii, by Charles S. Judd, superintendent of forestry, and will be the nucleus of the plantation.

The progress of the application of the Dean method at the Kalihi leprosy station, showing that in the fourteen and a half months ended on March 15 last, 94 out of the 188 patients had been paroled on recommendation of the attending doctors that the disease had been arrested to such an extent that it no longer is considered dangerous in their cases, is related in a pamphlet written recently by Doctor Dean and Dr. J. T. McDonald of the United States public health service.

Development of the Cure.

The pamphlet, published by the American Medical association, said that there had been a well defined development not only in method but also in the synthetic production of the fatty acids of chaulmoogra oil.

"As has been pointed out, there is no way of demonstrating that any person has been cured absolutely of leprosy, but the ninety-four patients who have been paroled are believed to be free from the disease," the pamphlet said. "Up to the present time not one of the patients paroled since October 1, 1918, has shown a recurrence of the disease.

"It is probably to be expected that occasional cases will show recurrence and have to return for a second course of treatment. It is believed, however, that the percentage of such returns is going to be low. It would appear that we have methods in hand for holding the disease under control."

Missourian's Freak Chicken.

A Missouri farmer has a four-legged Rhode Island Red chicken. The chicken was hatched in March, has run with the rest of the flock and is as large as the average chicken of the variety. When first hatched the chicken looked as though it had a head on both ends. It was a kind of double chicken. Only one of the parts developed, however, and the two extra legs now hang about three inches from the ground.

Dishwashing Makes Women Insane.

Dishwashing is sending more women to the insane asylums than anything else, according to Dr. Marie Stopes, an English author, who says that the nervous tension of housework is not generally realized.

Broken Glass Severs Jugular Vein.

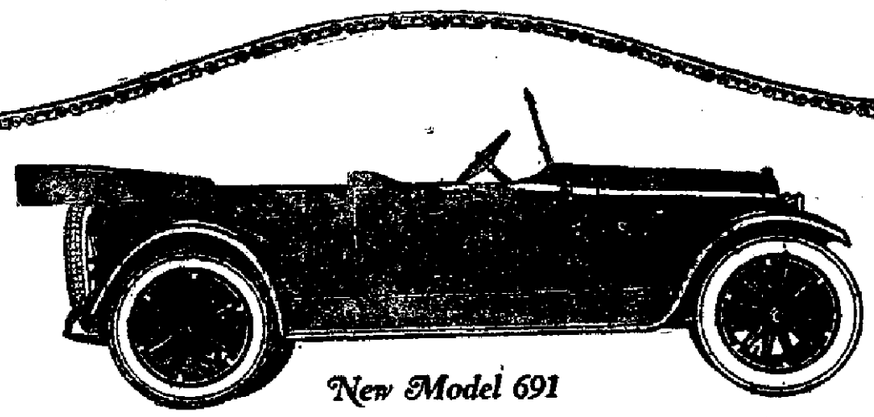

David Ginns, of Philadelphia, was killed in an automobile accident when a piece of broken windshield struck him in the neck, severing his jugular vein.

Science and Theory.

Theorists may disagree, but not scientists. Science means knowledge and men are scientists only to the extent of their absolute knowledge. The true scientist will never ask that you accept his opinion; he only asks that you accept his facts.—Dr. Cyril G. Hopkins.
